

COL STEWART ORATOR FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Pickett-Buchanan Camp Invites Him to the Norfolk Event.

DR. MENDOZA INSTALLED

Impressive Ceremony at Which Richmond Rabbi Made an Address.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., April 24.—Pickett-Buchanan Camp, Confederate Veterans, at their last meeting made arrangements for the Memorial Day exercises on May 10th.

A letter from Colonel William H. Stewart, grand commander of the Confederate Veterans of Virginia, accepts the invitation to deliver the oration at the unveiling on Memorial Day of the bronze statue which is to be placed on the Confederate monument. By a unanimous vote of the association, Mrs. James Y. Leigh was chosen to unveil the statue.

Installation Last Night

To-night the Rev. Dr. Louis David Mendoza was installed as rabbi of the Ohel Shalom Temple. An elaborate program was rendered and a number of addresses were made by prominent members of the Hebrew clergy. Among them was Rev. Dr. Landman, of Richmond.

Following is the program:
1. Violin Solo—Moderato from "Sacred Concerto, Wienawski." Chas. Borjes.
2. Invocation.
3. Evening Service.
4. Soprano Solo with violin obbligato—Selection, Gounod. Mrs. Blanche Weinschenk.
5. Address—Rabbi Landman.
6. Quartet—"I Long for Thy Salvation." Rossini. Chas. Borjes.
7. Address—Rabbi Calisch.
8. Baritone Solo—"King's Prayer." from Lohengrin. Wagner. Homer Moore.
9. Welcome Address—E. Hirschler, President of the congregation.
10. Address—Rabbi Mendoza.
11. Soprano Solo—"Song of Thanksgiving." Frances Allisen, Mrs. Chas. H. Consovo.
12. Prayer.

To Meet at Pine Beach

Arrangements are being perfected for a series of interdenominational evangelistic meetings at Pine Beach during the progress of the exposition.

A committee appointed by the Tidewater Ministerial Union is making every effort to have the prospect of the meetings an assured fact, and it is now practically certain that they will be held.

If possible, a lot will be secured at Pine Beach on which to erect a temporary structure, with a seating capacity of a thousand, should the committee fail to get funds for this structure, an immense canvas tent will be erected.

Crazed with jealousy, D. E. Stottmeyer, an ex-marine, cut his throat from ear to ear this morning. He was removed to the Protestant Hospital, where he is in a critical condition. The would-be suicide is a man apparently about thirty-five years of age, and has no relatives. There is a slight chance for Stottmeyer's recovery.

FRANK WALKER DEAD.

Body Brought to Richmond and Interred in Hollywood.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., April 24.—Mr. Frank Walker, son of the late Frank Walker, of this city, and grandson of Judge Roger A. Pryor, of New York, died suddenly last night at the home of Judge William J. Robertson, on Park Street, from the effects of strychnine taken a short while before.

Mr. Walker had long been in ill health. Much of the past two or three years had been spent in hospitals. He was twice operated upon for appendicitis and was recently under the surgeon's knife at the Clifton Forge Hospital for relief from some other disease.

The body was taken at noon to-day to Richmond for interment in Hollywood Cemetery. The pallbearers were L. T. Hanchel, Jr., W. Allen Perkins, Samuel Zimmer, George H. Hogan, M. Neilson and Robert Renshaw.

Mr. Walker's father was traveling freight agent of Chesapeake and Ohio Railway and died about eight years ago. His mother, Mrs. Pryor, survives him. The other surviving members of the immediate family are his sister, Mrs. Dorsey Waters, of Germantown, Md.; Mrs. James Hay, of Washington, D. C.; and Miss Polly Walker, of Charlottesville, and his brother, Roger Walker, of Boston.

Mr. C. C. Walker, an uncle of the deceased, went to Charlottesville as soon as he learned of his death, and accompanied the body to Richmond. The interment was made in Hollywood. The services were conducted by Rev. John H. Dickenson, rector of the Church of the Holy Comforter.

Cures Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fife, one of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which in a triable acts as a tonic for the entire reproductive system." He continues "in Helonias Dioica, the medicinal plant which more fully answers the purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of the female system, it is a tonic of the highest order, seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." In Fife's Review, the following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or cramping in the back, with leucorrhoea; a stonic (weak) condition of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women; constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (bleeding); due to a weak condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhoea (suppressed or absent monthly periods); headache from accompanying an enlarged condition of the digestive organs; and a general (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen.

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medicinal properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Benning Medical College, Chicago, says: "It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions, and general enfeeblement, it is useful."

Prof. John M. DeGroot, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated conditions."
Prof. B. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal: "Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (bleeding) and congestive dysmenorrhea (painful menstruation)."
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

SUSPECT HUSBAND OF THE KILLING

Danville Authorities Making Vigorous Search for George Moore.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

DANVILLE, VA., April 24.—Suspected of knowing something, if not directly implicated, in the mysterious deaths of John Daniels, Ada Moore and Will Spragins, the three negroes, whose dead bodies were found yesterday afternoon in the servant's room of the home of Rev. W. H. Atwell, a well-known Methodist presiding elder, George Moore, husband of Ada Moore, one of the victims of the triple tragedy, is badly wanted by the police. The authorities have searched in vain for the past twenty-four hours in an effort to locate Moore, but so far, without avail.

The autopsy on the stomach of one of the victims to ascertain what caused the deaths is now in progress, but the physicians have not as yet progressed far enough to make any report, other than that they have already discovered signs of poisoning.

Humor among the negroes here is that on Monday night Moore, who had but recently returned to this city, gave an eating and drinking feast, at which he invited his wife, her lover and another negro couple, Lillie McCain, the negro woman, who was found in an unconscious condition, died last night at the Central Hospital, making a total number of four negroes dead. She never regained consciousness.

PEACE TREATY RATIFIED NOW

State Department Is Advised That Negotiations Succeeded.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The State Department has been informed of the successful conclusion of the peace negotiations at Amapala. A cablegram received to-day from Captain Doyle, of the United States cruiser Chicago, dated yesterday, says that "Peace conference agreed to treaty at 11 A. M."

Captain Doyle added that the peace commissioners and their staffs would embark for their respective countries. He stated that J. G. Gomez, who represented Nicaragua, will be taken on the Boston to Corinto, and that the Boston will proceed to Acapulco, Mexico, on her way northward. Senator Gurnea, the representative of Salvador, in the conference, was to go aboard the Chicago and be taken to Acapulco, Salvador, and then the Chicago was to follow for Boston on her way northward.

The details of the agreement were lacking.

RIZZO HOME NOT A GAMBLING DIVE

That Charge Bitterly Denied in the Black Hand Society Trial.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 24.—At the "Black Hand" trial this morning, Joseph Rizzo, of the main witnesses for the Commonwealth, was put through a severe cross-examination. The lawyers for the defense tried to draw from the witness the admission that his house was used for gambling purposes, that Italians lost money at gambling tables, and for revenge dynamited the dwelling. The Rizzo denied that there was any gambling in his house, and on the whole his direct testimony was unshaken.

Mrs. Joseph Rizzo, wife of the preceding witness, told a long story of how her family and the other inmates of the house had been terrorized by their enemies. She said the night their house was dynamited she saw Charles Carmella and another Italian for the first time. She said she saw Charles Gonzaga and Samuel Luchina were in front. All had guns. She said several shots were fired into the house. She said she saw a man in a suit and hat, who she said was a spy, and that they would set fire to him by cutting his head off. He was later warned by letters to leave the country. He gave up a good position at Pittston and took his family and went to Rochester.

CAPT. JOHN PARHAM COMMITS SUICIDE

Shoots Himself Through the Head at His Home in Petersburg.

BROKEN BY ILL HEALTH

Was Well-Known Citizen and Had Splendid Record in Confederate Army.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
PETERSBURG, VA., April 24.—John T. Parham, a well-known citizen and a Confederate veteran, with a splendid military record, committed suicide about half-past 10 o'clock this morning at his residence on Bank Street by shooting himself in the right temple with an old thirty-eight calibre Colt revolver, the big ball passing through the brain and lodging in the scalp on the left side of the head. He survived for more than two hours, dying at ten minutes to 1 o'clock this afternoon without regaining consciousness.

Mr. Parham had been suffering from melancholia for several weeks—so much so that his friends feared that his mind would become affected, and to this cause only can the deed be attributed. All conditions indicate cool premeditation of suicide, and the fatal shot was evidently fired before a bureau glass, the body being found on the floor by the bureau in a bedroom. Dr. William Preston Hoy reached the wounded man a few minutes after he had shot himself, and remained with him until he died. Mr. Parham went to the Chesterfield Hotel only a few minutes before his suicide and asked to see the proprietor, who was not there. He then went directly to his residence, and began reading a newspaper, which he soon handed to his daughter, and entered an adjoining room, where he removed his hat and coat, laid them on a bed, and killed himself.

Mr. Parham was sixty-five years old, and is survived by his wife and a daughter. He was born in Prince George county, and at the beginning of the Civil War was a resident of Yorktown, Va. He enlisted in the Williamsburg Junior Guards, afterwards Company C, Thirty-second Virginia, commanded by Colonel C. B. Montague, and served throughout the war, receiving several wounds. He was commissioned ensign of his regiment in August, 1864. Mr. Parham resided in this city after the war almost continuously, and during the first Cleveland administration was deputy collector of customs. In 1888 he was appointed deputy sergeant of the city, holding that office for several years. He was sergeant of A. P. Hill Camp of Confederate Veterans.

Railroad Company Blamed.

A coroner's inquest at Swift Creek yesterday afternoon to investigate the killing of Mr. George Perkins and his sister, Mrs. John Scott, by a Sea-board Air Line wrecking train, crossing near that village Monday, resulted in a verdict by the jury that the deceased came to their death through carelessness and neglect on the part of the railroad company to provide proper warning at the crossing. Justice Lundy conducted the inquest.

Hurt in Sewer Trench.

Adam Scott, a colored laborer, was severely injured while working in a sewer pipe trench on Bank Street this morning. Two large rocks rolled in on him, striking him on the head and back when in a stooping position. Scott was taken to his home, and attended by Dr. Powell.

Fire of supposed incendiary origin destroyed the barn and stables of Haywood Turner at Booker, in Sussex county, last night. A horse was burned to death, and a quantity of grain and provender was destroyed.

Rev. George C. Cates, who is conducting the big union revival now in progress here at the Tabernacle Presbyterian Church, under the auspices of the Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist and Christian Churches of the city, has issued a letter addressed to the people of Petersburg, expressing his sincere gratitude for the cordial welcome accorded to him, and calling on every Christian man and woman in the city, regardless of denomination, to join him in most earnest prayer for the outpouring of God's spirit in this community.

SCENE OF SORROW AT ESTES'S FUNERAL

he took an occasional drink, but it is insisted that he was not intemperate, on the contrary, it is said that he was a man of very regular habits and unusual industry. The hard day's work he put in at the railroad station on Monday could never have been accomplished had he indulged in any excess of liquor the evening before.

It is a great mistake to suppose the homicide has any factional split in the county or that harsh expressions are being used in connection with either party to the affair. The people of Nelson are simply waiting developments and do not consider that they possess sufficient facts to justify them in forming any conclusions. Their attitude to-night is one of sympathy both for the family of Judge Loving and that of young Estes.

FRIEND OF ESTES DEFENDS HIS NAME

Issues Statement Declaring That There Was No Justification for the Shooting.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
LOVINGSTON, VA., April 24.—John H. Shipman, of this place, a friend of young Estes, has issued a statement defending the name of the young man killed by Judge Loving. In this statement he says:

Drink Beer

As a food and a tonic. Every component in good beer is good for you.

But be sure it is pure, else harm will be mixed with its healthfulness.

Beer aged insufficiently causes biliousness. That is why all Schlitz beer is aged for months in our cooling rooms.

Beer that's impure—not cleanly, not filtered, not properly sterilized—should be avoided.

That is why we spend more to insure absolute purity than we spend on anything else in our brewing.

The Beer That Made Milwaukee Famous.

"The facts, as they will develop, are as follows: Elizabeth Loving, the daughter of Judge Loving, who is about twenty years old, was spending the day (Sunday, 21st), or rather the evening, at the home of Mr. E. L. Kidd, the clerk of Nelson county, visiting his daughter, Miss Annie Kidd. Theodore I. Estes at first took Miss Kidd out driving, and upon his return, at the request of Miss Kidd, took Miss Loving out driving, returning to Lovington just before dark. Miss Loving had been unwell all day, and did take a drink of whiskey. A physician was sent for upon her return, who at once saw what was the matter with her. She stayed all night at Mr. Kidd's, and the next morning she remained in bed. The doctor I. Estes, who was going to Oak Ridge on Monday morning to unload a car of fertilizer, went to Mr. Kidd's house to drive Miss Loving out to her home, and she did not go with him, as she felt too unwell.

She remained at the home of Mr. Kidd until her mother came for her, about 11 o'clock. About 3 o'clock Judge Loving came to Lovington, driving furiously, inquiring for Theodore Estes. He at once went to Oakridge, going to the car in which Estes was, and shot him with a shotgun loaded with buckshot in the side and side of the neck, killing him instantly, and without waiting for a word of explanation.

Judge Loving's Statement.
The following are the identical words used by Judge Loving in his testimony before Rail Commissioner John M. Paine: "I was informed by Harry Sneed on yesterday morning that my daughter, Lizzie, had been driven into Lovington at night by Theodore Estes, she being in an unconscious condition."

"I restrained myself with great difficulty, hoping that there might be some way out of it. Lizzie was sent for, but did not come, sending word that she was sick. I did not go after her, but sent my wife. I asked her what had happened and she said that Theodore drove her out, and when about a mile out of town gave her a drink, and that she knew nothing more. I do not claim that I became crazy, but a frenzy seized me. Every muscle and vein in my body called for vengeance. I sought his life and I took it. And all hell could not have stopped me."

When asked if he did not arm himself with a shotgun and go first to Lovington, four miles, and then, not finding Estes, to Oakridge, four miles more, he said yes, and that he did follow him, and that he shot him. When asked for any explanation, he said he did not wait for a reply, and shot him before he could answer. This was every word of evidence introduced on the behalf of Loving.

When asked down his justification is that his daughter became unconscious, and that he shot Estes for giving her a drink. Estes was utterly unconscious that he had done anything wrong, and was shot down without a word of warning or opportunity for explanation. The statement of the correspondent that "everybody thinks Judge Loving did right is entirely wrong. There is a strong and bitter feeling against him, and but for the fact that the people believe that justice will be meted out to him, it would be difficult to restrain them from taking the law into their own hands. The further statement made in the Lynchburg Advance that the story of the shooting is entirely true, is likewise without any foundation.

"He was never drugged and was never maltreated, and there is not one word in the evidence to support it. The further statement of remarks said to have been made by Mrs. Estes is entirely wrong. She has made no such statement. The further statement that Mr. M. K. Estes, or his sons, have threatened any violence, or made any threats, is likewise untrue. They are law-abiding citizens, and they have expressed an earnest desire for the law to take its course. In conclusion, I would say that Theodore I. Estes was a young man of about twenty-five years old, and had lived near Lovington all his life; never had an enemy, and was beloved by all. He was a fine business man, and had a bright future before him."

RICHMONDER'S BRIDE.

Miss Olive Drew Weds Mr. Louis Lyns at Claremont.

CLAREMONT, April 24.—At 1 o'clock, less than twenty-four hours after apprising his fiancée by telegram, Mr. Louis W. Lyns, proprietor of the South-West Virginia Hotel, of Richmond, and promptly connected in Sussex county, took as his bride, Miss Olive Drew, the handsome and accomplished daughter of Captain and Mrs. W. Drew, of this village. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride, and was performed by the Rev. D. G. C. Butts, of the Laurel Street Methodist Episcopal Church, of Richmond. Miss Alma Jerry, formerly of Lynchburg, but now residing in Richmond, was the maid of honor, and Mr. J. S. Wren, of Booker, Va., was the best man.

The bridal party, consisting of the groom, the Rev. Mr. Butts, Miss Jerry and Mr. Wren arrived at Claremont at 12 o'clock and left at 1:40 P. M. for Richmond. The ceremony was a very quiet one and was followed by an informal reception. The couple, upon their return from a short wedding trip, will reside in Richmond.

Such an early wedding of this popular couple, occasioned by urgent business affairs of the groom, caused much surprise among the many friends of the contracting parties here, and they were in receipt of many hearty congratulations and good wishes. It being generally supposed that the happy event was not to be looked for until the early fall.
